

Programme Specific Outcomes

Department of Education

Hons Level Teaching:

- ❖ This kind of programme provides a wider and more comprehensive understanding view in the field of education.
- ❖ Students will have set his foundation to pursue higher education in M.A(Masters in Education).
- ❖ After completing the programme students will have to develop a multidisciplinary approach. After that s/he can pursue higher studies in subjects other than Education.
- ❖ Some interesting and relevant topics as included in the syllabus generate interest for research among the students in the future.
- ❖ Students can study different kinds of teaching methods during the overall session, which helps them to improve their teaching skills.
- ❖ This kind of programme evolves different types of psychological testing. Which really helps students to develop their psychological understanding about human behaviour.
- ❖ Students are also developing their reading, speaking and listening skills in the communication skills related topics.
- ❖ This type of course provided a wider and comprehensive view on inclusion. That's really helping students to develop their knowledge about the inclusion, exclusion and different disabled children.
- ❖ Students should have the skills of identifying the key factors and applying appropriate principles and assuming in the various problems related to the educational sectors.

General Level Teaching:

- ❖ This course in B.A(Gen) in Education enables the students to develop the overall understanding of educational institutions and organisational climate.
- ❖ This type of course provided a wider and comprehensive view on inclusion. That's really helping students to develop their knowledge about the inclusion, exclusion and different disabled children.
- ❖ After completing this programme the students develop their attitude towards research work and small research projects.
- ❖ Students will have set his foundation to pursue higher education in M.A(Masters in Education).
- ❖ Students can study different kinds of teaching methods during the overall session, which helps them to improve their teaching skills.
- ❖ Students are also developing their reading, speaking and listening skills in the communication skills related topics.

