

NEW ALIPORE COLLEGE

Department of Philosophy

• EXTENSION ACTIVITIES IN THE DEPARTMENT

Lecture Series

on

'Ethics and Human Values in the Post Pandemic Era' at Sahapur Girls High School
Organized by Department of Philosophy

Summary of the Lecture

Date	Speaker	Lecture Topic
12/07/2022	Payel Sarkar (Student)	Yoga and Well being
20/09/2022	Raima Dalui (Student)	Humanism of Rabindranath Tagore
22/11/2022	Prof. Sonali Paul	Environmental ethics
13/01/2023	Raima Dalui (Student)	Ethics and Empathy: An essential issue in post pandemic er
24/03/2023	Payel Sarkar (Student)	Humanism of Swami Vivekananda
28/04/2023	Prof. SoumitaChakraborty	Classical Indian attitude towards Nature: The Upanasadic World view
27/06/2023	Prof. JayitaDutta	Ethical Development of Human Being
11/08/2023	Prof. SoumitaChakraborty	Well Being, justice and development Ethics

Report: Extension Activities in the Department - Lecture Series on 'Ethics and Human Values in the Post Pandemic Era'

Introduction:

The Department of Philosophy at Sahapur Girls High School organized a series of extension activities in the form of a Lecture Series on the theme 'Ethics and Human Values in the Post Pandemic Era.' This initiative aimed to engage students and faculty in thought-provoking discussions about ethical considerations and human values in the context of the challenges posed by the global pandemic. The series featured a diverse array of speakers, including students and renowned professors, who shared their insights on various aspects of ethics and values.

Lecture Details:

12/07/2022 - Payel Sarkar (Student) - Yoga and Well-being:

The lecture series commenced with a lecture by Payel, a student from the department. She explored the profound connection between yoga and overall well-being, particularly emphasizing its relevance in the post-pandemic era. The talk delved into the physical, mental, and spiritual benefits of practicing yoga and how it can contribute to a healthier and balanced life.

20/09/2022 - Raima Dalui (Student) - Humanism of Rabindranath Tagore:

Raima, another student from the department, took the audience through an exploration of the humanistic philosophy of Rabindranath Tagore. She discussed Tagore's emphasis on the interconnectedness of humanity and his vision for a world where compassion, empathy, and universal brotherhood prevail.

22/11/2022 - Prof. Sonali Paul - Environmental Ethics:

Professor Sonali Paul, an esteemed faculty member, delivered a lecture on the critical topic of environmental ethics. She highlighted the importance of recognizing our ethical responsibilities toward the environment, especially in the wake of the pandemic's impact on the planet. The lecture covered ethical considerations related to conservation, sustainable practices, and the interconnectedness of all living beings.

13/01/2023 - Raima Dalui (Student) - Ethics and Empathy: An Essential Issue in the Post Pandemic Era:

Raima returned to the platform to discuss the significance of empathy in the post-pandemic world. Her lecture emphasized the role of empathy in fostering understanding and support among individuals during times of crisis, ultimately contributing to a more compassionate and resilient society.

24/03/2023 - Payel Sarkar (Student) - Humanism of Swami Vivekananda:

Payel delivered a lecture on the humanistic philosophy of Swami Vivekananda, focusing on his teachings about the inherent divinity of all individuals and the importance of service to humanity. The talk underscored how Vivekananda's teachings remain relevant in guiding ethical behavior in the current era.

28/04/2023 - Prof. SoumitaChakraborty - Classical Indian Attitude towards Nature: The Upanishadic World View:

Professor SoumitaChakraborty's lecture explored the classical Indian perspective on nature as reflected in the Upanishads. She discussed how these ancient texts promoted a harmonious relationship between humans and nature, advocating for reverence and responsible stewardship of the environment.

27/06/2023 - Prof. JayitaDutta - Ethical Development of Human Being:

Professor JayitaDutta delivered a lecture on the ethical development of individuals in a rapidly changing world. She discussed the challenges and opportunities for personal growth, moral reasoning, and ethical decision-making in the context of the post-pandemic era.

11/08/2023 - Prof. SoumitaChakraborty - Well-Being, Justice, and Development Ethics:

Professor SoumitaChakraborty returned to the series to discuss the intersection of well-being, justice, and development ethics. The lecture explored how ethical considerations can guide policies and actions that promote both individual well-being and societal progress.

Geo-tagged Photo

